PECK'S BAD BOY AND HIS PA.

He Breaks his Pa of Mashing Female Clerks-The Minister Explains Daniel in the Lion's Den With a Dog, and Loses Part of His Pants.

Peck's Sun.

"What is this I hear about your father creating a panic in a dry goods store,' said the grocery man to the bad boy, as he took a butter tryer and run it into a pumpkin a few times. "They tell me that he had about a hundred female clerks treed on the shelves, and on the counters, and all of them screaming bloody murder, and that a floor walker hit him over the head with a roll of paper cambric, and somebody turned in a fire alarm. How was it?"

"Well, if you will keep watch for pa, at the door, I will tell you about it," said the boy. "Somebody has told pa that I was at the bottom of the whole business, and when a man loses confidence in his boy, and rolls up a trunk strap and carries it habitually, it stands a boy in hand to keep his eye peeled. You see, pa has been in a habit lately of going to the store a good deal and lallygagging with the girl clerks. Any girl that will smile on pa, and look sweet, catches him, and he would sit on a stool in front of the counter ten hours a day, pretending to want to buy some kind of fringe, or corsets, or something, and he would fairly talk the arm off the girls. Ma didn't like it at all, and she told pa he ought to be ashamed of himself, 'cause the girls was only making a fool of him, and all the people in the store were laffing at him, but pa said for her to shut her yawp, and he kept on trying to find ex-cuses to go to the store. Ma told me about it, and she felt real sorry, and by jinks it made me mad to see an old man, old enough to have gout or paralysis, going around mashing clerks in a store, and I told ma if she would let me I would break pa up in that sort of business, and she told me to go ahead and make him jump like a box car. So tother day ma gave pa a piece of ribbon to match, and a corset to change for a larger size, and a pair of gloves to return because the thumb of one of 'em ripped off, and told him to buy four yards of baby flannel, and see how much it would cost to have her seal-skin cloak relined, and to see if her new hat was done. Pa acted as though he didn't want to go to the store, but ma and me knew that he looked upon it as a picnic, and he blacked his boots, and changed ends with his cuffs, and put on his new red necktie, and shaved bisself, and fixed ried. I asked him to let me go along to carry the packages, and he said he didn't mind if I did go. You have seen these injy rubber rats they have at the rubber stores, have nt you? They look so near like a natural rat that you can't tell the difference unless you offer the rubber rat some cheese. I got one of those rats and tied a fine thread to it, with a slipnoose on the end, and when pa got into the store I put the slipmonse over the hind button of his coat-tail, and put the rat on the floor, and it followed him along, and I swow it looked so natural I wanted to ki k it. Pa walked along smiling, and stopped at the ribbon counter, and winked at a girl, and she bent over to see what he wanted, and then she saw the rat, and she screamed and crawled up on the shelf where the boxes were, and put her feet under her, and said, 'take it away, kill it,' and she trembled all over. Pa thought she had gone into a fit 'cause she was paralyzed on his shape, and he turned blue, and went on, 'cause he didn't want to kill her dead; and as he walked along, the rat followed him, and just as he bowed to four girls who were standing together, talking about the fun they had at the exposition the night before, they saw the rat, and they began to yell, and climb up things. One of them got on a stool and pulled her clothes tight around her ankles, so a live rat couldn't have got in her stocking, let alone a rubber rat, and the girls all squealed just like when you tickle them in the ribs. Pa he looked scared, as though he was afraid he was breaking them all up with his shape, and he kept on, and another flock of girls saw the rat, and they jumped up on the counter and sat down on their feet, and yelled 'rat.' Then the others yelled 'rat,' and in a minute about a hundred girls were getting up on things, and saying 'shoo,' and one of them got on a pile of blankets, and the pile fell off on the floor with her, and the men had to dig herout. Pa's face ing a fool of himself, but he did not look at it in that light. Say, do you think it was wrong to break him up that way? He was going wrong entirely. "O, I don't know. You and your ma are the best judges. But I would have liked to see them girls climbing up the side of the store. But what is the trouble was a study. He looked at one girl and then another, and wondered what was tie mater, and finally the floor walker there again he would send the police after him. I had gone by the time pa got out on the outside walk, and he picked up the rubber rat and found it was hitched to his coat, and he went right home. Ma says he was so mad that he stuttered, and she thinks I better board around for a day or two. She tried to his good, to show him that he was mak-again. I hope you have not done any-thing you will be sorry for."

"It wasn't me at all. It was Duffy's dog," said the boy, as he broke out with a laugh. "You see, the minister felt as though he had been cross to me, when I asked questions of him, and he met me on the street and apologized, and said, hereafter he would try to show a christian spirit, and would answer any questions I might ask him. So I began to ask him how he thought it was that Daniel had such control over the lions, when they cast him into the den. I told him I thought Daniel had chloroform on his handkerchief, and when the lions got a sniff of it they didn't want any Daniel in theirs, but he said that wasn't it. He said it was in the power of man over the brute creation, and showed the efficacy of prayer. He said Daniel prayed three times every day, and then looked the lions right in the eye, and a lion wouldn't have gall enough to eat a man that looked straight in his eye. To illustrate, he said he could look a vicious dog right in the eye and the dog would turn tail and run, and just then we passed Duffy's and the dog barked, and growled, and the minis-ter said he would demonstrate to me the power of the human eye over the brute, and he went right into Duffy's yard, Well, I knew that dog, cause Duffy used to raise melous, and I went right up a tree. I didn't want that dog to think I was trying to play any Daniel business on him, because every little while Duffy has to take a file and pry pieces of pants out of that dog's teeth, so I got up on a limb. The dog looked at the minister a minute, and the minister looked at the dog, and when the dog began to lick his chops I says to myself, 'Daniel, you bet-ter be getting hence,' but Daniel didn't get hence till it was everlastingly too late. But I guess he would have saved his coat if he hadn't tried to pull the dog over the picket fence. The minister is usually a very deliberate man, but when the dog began to tangle his teeth up in his coat tail, he felt that it was good to be some-where else, and he begun to go away to look some other dog in the eye. I guess Duffy's dog is not the right kind of a dog to look in the eye. I think some dogs is different about being looked in the eye. The minister looked like a flying trapeze performer when he come over that fence. They needn't tell me he never belonged to a gymnasium, 'cause he couldn't get over a fence that way, and always have been a good little boy who never stole melons. I could tell by the way he got over the fence that his neighbors used to raise melons when he was a boy. Well, Duffy was taking a nap, but he woke up and came out and called the dog off, and the minister went off with his hand on where his coat was tore and when Duffy chained up the dog I came down? I am not yet convinced about that Daniel business, and until the minister demonstrates it I shall hold to the chloroform theory. And so the minister wouldn't sit down. I thought that dog's teeth had been filed."
